

Target Market Determination

for the Prime Super income stream product

Effective date 31 March 2025

Next scheduled review to be completed by 30 September 2025

This Target Market Determination (TMD) relates to the Prime Super Income Streams product (the product). It sets out the individuals for whom the product has been designed for and for whom it is likely to be appropriate, having regard to the likely objectives, financial situation and needs of the target market.

This TMD is not a Product Disclosure Statement (PDS) and is not a summary of all the features and conditions of the product. The information in this document is general in nature and does not take into account a person's individual objectives, financial situation or needs.

It is important that individuals read the PDS for detailed information about the product and obtain personal financial advice where appropriate.

1. About the product

The product is suitable for individuals in the retirement phase or transition to retirement phase of superannuation and have met another Condition of Release (see table opposite). The product is an account-based pension which allows individuals to remain invested in the superannuation environment and draw-down an income from their account on a regular basis, and where eligible lump sums.

The products also allow members to make an active choice in relation to their super investment options.

The product options are:

- a Retirement Income Stream, suitable for individuals who have met a Condition of Release (see page 2) and wish to start drawing on their super to provide an income (usually in retirement); and
- a Transition to Retirement (TTR) Income Stream, suitable for individuals who have reached their Preservation Age, are under the age of 65, are still working and need to access additional income generally because they are scaling back their working hours, or wish to top-up their super by making additional tax-effective contributions.

PDS to which this TMD applies

This TMD applies to the Prime Super Income Stream product: Product Disclosure Statement – Income Stream.

1 July 1962 to 30 June 1963	58
1 July 1963 to 30 June 1964	59
After 30 June 1964	60

The following describes the likely objectives financial situation and needs of individuals in the target market.

Likely objectives

- To have regular income to support cashflow and lifestyle needs in retirement (or where the individual has met another Condition of Release).
- To retain retirement savings in the superannuation environment.
- To achieve investment returns over time according to individual circumstances, risk appetite and financial objectives, which may change over time.
- To have flexibility and control over amount of income and frequency of payments,
- To have a level of flexibility and control over their own investment strategy.
- Where eligible, to have flexible access to capital.

Likely financial situation

- Will possess a reasonable level of knowledge of their financial circumstances and the level of income they need to draw to meet their cashflow and lifestyle needs.
- Will have awareness of their preferences for financial risk and their needs.
- Will have more than $10,000 in super savings
- Will be aware of their preferences in relation to investment styles, risk appetite, investment objectives and investment time frames.
- May have other sources of income, such as the Age Pension.

Likely needs

- To draw an income from their superannuation to meet cashflow and lifestyle needs.
- To have flexibility in the amount of income received and frequency of payments.
- To exercise some control over the investment portfolio of their account.
- To construct an investment portfolio with a mixture of options to meet their objectives, needs and financial situation.
- To have flexible access to their funds, where a Condition of Release has been met.

Individuals for whom the product is not suitable

- Individuals who have not reached Preservation Age or have not met a relevant Condition of Release.
- Individuals who require access to a more comprehensive suite of investments.

3. Product key attributes

The product allows members to draw an income from their superannuation, with flexibility on drawdown amounts, subject to legislation, and payment frequency.

The product offers individuals a Transition to Retirement Income Stream and Retirement Income Stream.

The product offers 11 investment options, either pre-mixed (diversified) or single sector investment options, designed to cater for a range of risk appetites, investment return targets, and investment objectives. A member can make unlimited investment switches, at no additional cost, at any time after making the initial choice.

The product offers a level of flexibility and control for members over their investment strategy, including a default investment option, the Balanced option, for those that don't want to make an investment choice.

Retirement after starting a TTR Income Stream

If a member meets a relevant Condition of Release after starting a TTR Income Stream and is under age 65, the member can:

- continue the TTR Income Stream account;
- move the money back into a super account;
- take a lump sum (also known as a commutation); and
- switch to the Retirement Income Stream by advising the Fund in writing of the relevant Condition of Release and requesting the TTR Income Stream be changed to a Retirement Income Stream.

Upon attaining age 65 the TTR Income Stream automatically switches to the Retirement Income Stream.

Generally, a member can gain access to their super once they have reached their Preservation Age and permanently retired from the workforce, or ceased an employment arrangement after turning 60.

Payments

Payments from the product are made twice per month, monthly, quarterly, half yearly or yearly.

If invested in more than one investment option, members can choose the investment option from where their payment is drawn. Members can also draw their payments proportionately across their chosen investment options.

Where a Condition of Release has been met, the product provides flexible access to lump sums as required.

Investment options

To have a level of flexibility and control over their own investment strategy, members can select to invest in one or more of the following investment options, which are designed for a range of risk levels, investment-return targets and investment objectives.

The tables below describe the investment options and the members that the option would suit. For more information about the investment options, including specific asset allocations, refer to the Fund's PDS and Member Guide available on the website.

Traffic lights indicate the age range of the likely target market for each option:

	Green means this option is likely to suit members in this age range who also seek the other features specified for the option
	Amber means this option is less likely to suit members in this age range, but suitability would also depend on members' personal objectives, outlook, and preferences in relation to risk and returns. Members should seek personal financial advice if considering this option.

The distribution conditions and restrictions identified for the product is aimed at ensuring that individuals who acquire the products are likely to be in the target market for the products. Additional distribution conditions and restrictions are not required given the breadth of the target market.

7. Review

Review period

This TMD will be reviewed by 30 September 2025.

Reviews will occur every 12 months. The Trustee may undertake a review at any point in time or when a review trigger occurs (outlined below).

Review triggers

The TMD will be reviewed when an event or circumstance occurs which suggests the TMD is no longer appropriate, such as:

- Significant dealings in the product that are not consistent with this TMD.
- Events or circumstances that change the key attributes of the product, which alter its appropriateness for the target market.
- Material investment option changes which reduce the liquidity of the product, or the option does not achieve its objective over the time horizon or is the subject of significant complaints which suggest the product is no longer appropriate.
- Data reporting that suggests that the product is not being distributed or purchased as intended so that the individuals who acquire the product are not in the target market.
- An outcome from Prime Super's annual Member Outcomes Assessment which indicates the product is not meeting desired outcomes for members.
- The receipt of an order by a regulator or court that relates to the product, including an order from the Australian Securities and Investments Commission requiring Prime Super to cease retail distribution of this product.

Monitoring and reporting

We will collect and monitor the following information about the products, at least half yearly:

- Information about the number (and types) of complaints.
- Complaints about a key attribute or aspect of the product.
- Information that indicates that the product is not being distributed to the target market.
- Significant dealings outside the target market.

The reporting period has been set to reasonably enable the Trustee to assess whether the TMD is still appropriate, having regard to the risk of detriment to individuals if the TMD is not promptly reviewed.

Distributors must report any complaints about the product and any significant dealing that is inconsistent with this TMD within 10 business days of becoming aware of it.
